Basic principles:

Pain free and friendly approach: this is done by dedicating a fair amount of time to all patients, not only for curing them but also for putting them at ease, thus gaining their involvement and trust in order to go on with the treatment. This is particularly required when treating children and anxious patients. But all our patients are glad to be dedicated some of our time!

Restorative dentistry: no artificial tooth is better than our own natural tooth. Each treatment is proposed to patients following this principle, i.e. preserving the existing teeth, both by means of mini-invasive treatments and a targeted and personalized prevention. Should an advanced rehabilitation therapy be required, then priority will be given to preserving the teeth that may be recovered.

Full mouth diagnosis and treatment: during the first visit patients undergo an overall check of their teeth and gums including oral mucosis, if necessary endoral or panoramic digital x-rays are taken. The outcome is then registered in the patient's record track. This aims at preserving dental health and satisfy aesthetic needs and allows early detection of small problems with minimum invasivity.

Prevention and patients' training as a way to self-preserve their own mouth hygiene and, as a consequence, to reduce expenses and to prolong their oral health. With this aim in mind, S T U D I O carries out scheduled free check ups and set up a recall system in order to remind patients of their appointments. Also aiming at reducing household expenses for dental treatments, S T U D I O commits itself to limit costs for basic prevention, as for detartrasis, hygiene training, groove sealings in children and minor fillings.

Clear accounting and organization and fair treatment: patients are provided with written cost estimates detailing each cost before each treatment. Both S T U D I O receptionist and owner are at your disposal to clarify any doubts you may have or to answer any questions you may ask. Upon request and as a further evidence of total transparency and quality guarantee, patients will be provided with a detailed written description of each treatment they will receive.

Payments can be made by cheque, ATM cards or the major credit cards. No direct health insurance coverage provided by any health maintenance organization is accepted.

The economic relation between STUDIO and patients is therefore direct. Should patients be covered by a private or corporate insurance policy and therefore need reimbursement, the receptionist may help them fill in the required forms and provide them with all necessary details.

Safety guarantee:

all hygienic and sanitary regulations are carefully complied with in order to guarantee maximum sterilization of tools and the environment. Tools are sterilized by means of two steam autoclaves. Once they have been washed in the appropriate ultrasound machinery and before they are sterilized, tools are sealed in envelopes or aluminium trays that are then opened in the presence of the patient, as a protection of his or her own health.

STUDIO also has an operating room used only for oral surgery as a full guarantee of the environmental hygiene necessari for this practice, that is Dr. Bosco's post-graduate specialization.

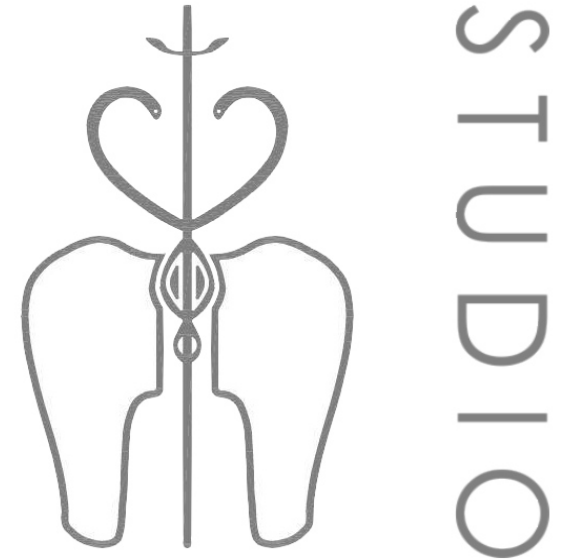

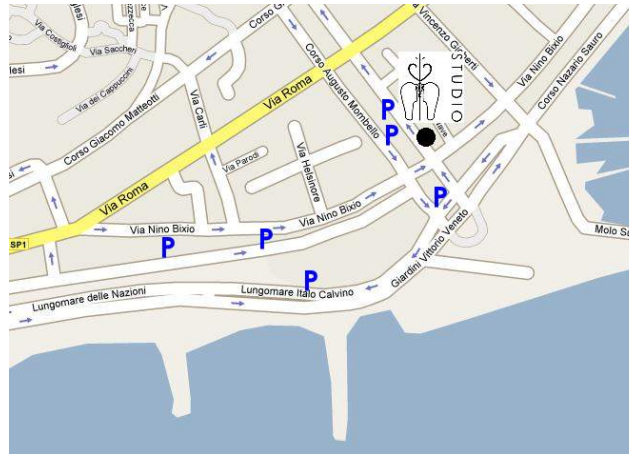

Thanks to the most advanced surgical and regenerating techniques, Dr. Bosco carries out complex extractive surgery and interventions of parodontology, mucogingival aesthetics and implantology even in patients who have a limited amount of bone.

Dr. Bosco is also a consultant in this field in Sanremo, Genoa and Milan.

Quick assistance and availability: STUDIO commits itself to visit patients in need of urgent treatments within the working day and to be available for urgent treatments during holidays, too.

For standard treatments, appointments are scheduled within 15 days.
